From the Regional Administrator

Dr. Kathleen Q. Camin

More than a century ago a poet-naturalist wrote:

> I wish to speak a word for Nature, for absolute freedom and wildness, as contrasted with freedom and culture merely civil—to regard man as an inhabitant, or a part and parcel of nature . . .

That naturalist, Henry Thoreau, felt that enough was being outspoken for the commercial and business aspects of life but, instead, what was needed were more men and women dedicated to natural awareness. Today the same is true.

This directory of environmental groups can help to serve that purpose. Included in this listing are federal and state government agencies as well as regional and local groups operating in Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, and Nebraska. All share an abiding concern for environmental integrity.

Some of these organizations employ professional staffs. Others are comprised entirely of volunteers. But all are citizens whose primary concern is protecting and preserving our environmental heritage.

As Regional Administrator, I greatly value the support of these concerned citizens and their organizations. Our success, protecting the environment for ourselves and those who will follow us, depends in great measure on your concern, your efforts and your loyalty to our goals.

And we, like Thoreau, who respect the environment and treasure our natural legacy, will pursue our goals to realization.
